Corona info fra SAFE 02.04.20

Norwegian Oil and Gas (NOG):

SAFE is continuously in a good dialogue with NOG, but at present there are no scheduled meetings between the parties. In the last meeting with NOG the meeting moderator suggested and concluded that no new meeting would be planned until the employer had new facts and subjects to be discussed. They are still in the process of making analysis concerning the need for, and expected impact of a rotation change to for example a 3-6 rotation, however they themselves see and companies report that at this point in time no difficulties are observed with crew changes, so the present 2-4 rotations work fine. If changes are desired, or new facts come to surface, SAFE and others will be invited and new rounds of meetings will take place.

After Easter there are also expectations with regards to a few expected changes from the authorities concerning initiated measures. But it remains to be seen whether it will have an impact on our industry.

NOG Homepage:

On NOG's website, our newsletters are posted and often there is good information about several of the questions we are dealing with on a daily basis. <https://norskoljeoggass.no/>

Practice of the government's orders:

SAFE is aware that public transport does not always comply with the requirements for distance between people and with crowds gathered as recommended by the government and FHI during these corona times. For example on board some full aircrafts, there is a mix of domestic and foreign citizens on their way to or from quarantine, without any kind of overview or knowledge of having an actual "infection" onboard. Another questionable subject is that no equal requirements for foreigners apply. To the same extent it is equally unknown whether individuals carry the corona virus infection, regardless which country they comes from. There should be equal rules, regardless whether or not for fear of bringing the virus into the country or to the workplace.

SAFE believes that strong routines should be put in place, avoiding exposure at and/or bringing the virus to the workplace. This input from SAFE will be taken and presented by YS, as direct questions for clarification in their meetings, with the authorities.

Easter:

SAFE will keep the emergency response group going throughout Easter, and the normal ordinary working days next week. However, when no specific changes emerge or are proposed in relation to the corona issue, there will be no daily information coming from SAFE centrally.

Remember!

All SAFE members who are laid off will be exempt from paying union membership fees. If, as a member you are, or have been laid off, you can apply for suspended membership outlined on "My Page" on www.safe.no

Suspended membership as a layoff is free of membership fees. You only pay 50 kr per month for legal insurances. Legal insurances apply to members with a residential address in Norway and Sweden only.

Local clubs must forward updated lists to SAFE with an overview about who has been laid off, so that we can follow these up in a good way.

Spread joy in the workplace:

Easter greetings are being received and we share them with joy. Take some picture or send us a little video clip from the workplace and the crew, we'll share them with the other SAFE members. There are many everyday heroes in our industry, together we stand and contribute with tax money to the treasury which in return enables the government to contribute with crisis packages to our nation! Give a colleague some positive feedback and send the picture to us.

Get in touch on messenger or send an email to Hilde-Marit Rysst and we will post the greetings on our pages.

Yours sincerely
